

KNIGHTS IN ACTION

A few weeks ago the Knights of Columbus prepared chicken for sale to the parishioners after Sunday Mass. Now this was a fund-raiser but more importantly it was also a community and parish builder. There were almost 40 brother knights helping out or at least lending support to those who were actually doing the work. It was a beautiful thing to see so many actively participating so early in the morning. Often I have heard potential Knights say that they do not have time to attend another meeting. Well brothers being a Knight is not about attending meetings, it's about involvement. It's about the spirit that was so amply displayed on that Super Bowl Sunday.

So when someone tells you he doesn't have time to go to another meeting, tell him you understand and that we don't care if he doesn't come to meetings we just don't want him to miss out on all the other good times we have helping others within the parish and community. I realize that the chicken preparation incident was just a small example of what we Knights do. There are many such small incidents wherever you look through out the parish. We Knights are involved in every aspect of the parish and community life.

Many times our involvement goes unrecognized as a Knights activity and that is ok too. In the end its not who gets the credit but that the job gets done. The Knights are some of the busiest members of this community so when a potential member says he doesn't have enough time for the Knights let him know that many of the things that he is already doing are the very things that we do as Knights so why not join us and have the added benefit of being part of a larger organization with all the benefits that come with being a brother Knight. The bottom line here is that knights are involved and have fun at the same time.
